

the DEMOCRACY ALLOWANCE

Imagine a world where every citizen has the chance to step away from their daily grind—to engage with their community, contribute to democracy, or pursue personal growth. A world where you can make a difference without worrying about sacrificing your pay check or struggling to carve time out of your packed schedule.

Well, this isn't just an idea—it's a proposed legal entitlement that could transform the way we participate in our society.

BUT HOW DOES IT WORK?

This initiative allows citizens to claim one paid day off from work each month to dedicate to community, democracy, or self-education.

Supported by the state, employers cover your salary as usual but are reimbursed by the state. And here's the kicker:

WHAT YOU CHOOSE TO DO WITH THAT DAY IS ENTIRELY UP TO YOU.

No one monitors your activities or asks for documentation.

COMMUNITY GARDENING?

HOSTING ART EVENTS?

VOLUNTEERING AT COMMUNITY HUBS?

ATTENDING PUBLIC DEBATES?

Imagine a parent who was too overwhelmed with work and family responsibilities suddenly finding a community of like-minded activists.

Or think about a senior citizen re-climbing the ladder of civic participation through moderated debates over tea.

Even people who simply want to spend time gardening, singing in a care home or learning more about voting systems can finally do so.

THE BEAUTY OF THIS INITIATIVE LIES IN ITS FREEDOM—A DAY FOR YOU TO DO AND CO-DESIGN SOMETHING MEANINGFUL, WITHOUT JUDGMENT OR LIMITS.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO WITH YOUR DEMOCRACY DAY?

The options are infinite, limited only by your imagination. Because this future isn't about paperwork or regulation—it's about freedom, collaboration, and the power to create a better, closer, and more democratic society.
